

For immediate release

New marshal overalls on the loose.

Orange is the colour.

It's a case of 'suits you' for new race, speed and kart marshals the length and breadth of the UK as a loan overall is made available to motorsport volunteers.

New marshals, for their first few events will now be able to proudly display being part of the marshalling team in the new garment, in bright orange with contrasting blue details.

"We wanted to make sure that new marshals feel part of the team, so for their first few events they will be able to sample the right clothes and 'look the part.' They can then decide if they wish to purchase their own overalls, explains Sue Sanders-Peppitt, Volunteers in Motorsport Project Manager.

The fireproof overalls, not dissimilar in design to a race suit, are emblazened across the back with the 'Volunteers in Motorsport' logo and have an adjustable built-in Velcro fastening belt.

Available now, the new overalls will soon be seen at a race circuit near you.

Volunteers in Motorsport is an MSA funded initiative with support from Motorsport Development UK. Its aim is to help motorsport clubs recruit and retain marshals and other volunteers.
